Description

A wonderful 19th-century hand-coloured aquatint and etching depicting the honourable East India Company Ship Inglis leaving St Helena in July 1830. Likely named for Captain Nathaniel Inglis, the ship Inglis was built by Caleb Martin Taylor in Penang for Robert Hudson of Fenchurch Street. It launched in 1811. Weighing 1,312 tonnes and measuring 133 feet long with a 43-foot beam, Inglis travelled to China three times via India between 1812 and 1818, commanded by Captain William Hay. In 1819-20, Captain Thomas Borradaile piloted the ship to China, and Inglis continued voyaging to China via India until, in 1834, she was sold out of the fleet for £9,150 to Richardson Borradaile. The Inglis was privately owned, wrecked in 1844. Inscribed at the bottom of this image 'The Honourable East India Company's Ship Inglis, commanded by Joseph Dudman Esq, leaving St Helena in July 1830, in company with H.M. Frigate Ariadne and the H.C. Ships Windsor, Waterloo, Scaleby Castle, General Kyd, Farquharson & Lowthe'. Originally painted by W.J. Huggins, 1832, but this aquatint & etching after the engraving by Edward Duncan is more likely c.1860 / 1880. The overall condition is excellent, w...
