Description

A fine mid-19th century Victorian mahogany wine / lamp table finely crafted and full of period charm. The circular top has a delicately moulded rim and rests upon a finely turned bobbin column supported by a tripod base with elegant swept cabriole legs ending in pad feet. Crafted from richly grained mahogany the table boasts a superb warm colour and patina developed over more than 160 years of careful use. Its graceful form and perfect proportions make it an ideal occasional lamp, or wine table — a versatile piece suited to both traditional and contemporary interiors. A wonderful example of mid-Victorian craftsmanship combining elegance, balance, and enduring quality.
