Description

A 19th-century faux bamboo chest of drawers in pine, with three full-width drawers and a gallery top. Likely British c.1880, the piece features turned knob handles, a shaped apron, and applied faux bamboo mouldings to the front and sides. The warm golden tone and simple country aesthetic are complemented by the natural variation in the grain. A practical storage piece that reflects the enduring popularity of bamboo-inspired furniture during the late Victorian period.
