Description

Eighteenth-century Worcester porcelain teapot and cover, printed in blue with the Fence pattern — chinoiserie garden beyond a fence with flowering shrubs and butterflies; twin blue line borders to the collar and a small flower on the spout. Underglaze blue crescent to the base, the well-known First Period Dr Wall mark. Early blue-printed Worcester is a cornerstone of British ceramic history; this example retains a clean transfer and presents well. Dimensions Weight 288 g Height 12.5 cm Spout to handle 16.5 cm Depth 11 cm Condition Tiny nibble to spout tip; cover knob restored and repainted; small firing crack to footrim; otherwise excellent antique condition. Please study the photographs carefully. Questions are welcome. Dispatched with full tracking and insurance. Shipping price covers packaging, handling, and postage.
