Description

A beautiful, rich red abrashed ground colour on this lovely antique rug, with gorgeous green at each end of the field. This rug is not afraid, it is a celebration of colour and it cheers me up every time I look at it. Within a broad ivory border of various flowers and vines, this is a fabulous rug. Finely woven and in very nearly full, original pile height. There is some old, localised insect damage on one side which doesn't distract (see last photo). Built to be walked on, this great rug can easily last another 125 years... Woven in the traditional tribal style, wider at the bottom end than the middle so its a minimum of 145cm or 4'9" and a maximum of 158cm or 5'6" wide 4'9" /5'6" x 9'11"
