Description

A most unusual pair of French porcelain and ormolu candlesticks in superb original condition with almost no wear to the original gilding. The candlesticks stand on fancy shaped and pierced bases with foliate decoration rising up with beaded and foliate collars to the central hand painted circular porcelain mounts decorated with brightly painted flowers. Above, there is a matching beaded collar which separates the leaf and flower foliate tops, which have a rising tulip centre forming the candle holder with removable sconce. A very pleasing pair of unusual 19th century French candlesticks in lovely original condition, circa 1880. Height 22.5cm x width 11cm x depth 11cm
