Description

Edwardian Mahogany Cheval Mirror Add timeless elegance to your interior with this exquisite Edwardian mahogany cheval mirror, a perfect example of early 20th-century craftsmanship. The mirror features a beautifully fretted surmount with a central carved motif, showcasing the refined detailing characteristic of the Edwardian period. The bevelled glass mirror includes indented corners, adding a subtle decorative touch and enhancing its period charm. Mounted within a rich mahogany frame, the mirror sits gracefully on cabriole legs, providing both stability and style. This adjustable cheval mirror tilts smoothly within its frame, allowing you to find the perfect viewing angle. Ideal for bedrooms, dressing rooms, or antique-inspired interiors, it combines functionality with distinguished design. There is light foxing to the glass, but it is not an issue, as you will see in one image. Key Features: • Edwardian period mahogany cheval mirror • Decorative fretted surmount with carved detailing • Bevelled glass mirror with indented corners • Tilting mechanism for adjustable viewing angle • Supported by elegant cabriole legs • Superb craftsmanship and warm mahogany patina Dimensions...
