Description

This superb bronze is cast with very fine detail. It depicts Joan of Arc in full medieval armour. Her hands are crossed over her sword, which she holds up to her heart and her head is tilted upwards in reverence. She is wearing a laurel wreath around her head and at her feet are her pair of armoured gauntlets. This very pleasing bronze study is fully signed on the reverse of the bronze base, Ruffony. The figure is mounted and displayed on an original cut and polished green marble plinth. The original patina is in excellent condition and displays a mid brown to dark brown colour. Swiss, circa 1920 Oscar Ruffony was born in 1874 in Magadino, Canton Ticino, Switzerland and died in 1946. During this time, he was renowned as a fine sculptor, producing many important works which were appreciated in collections by the general public and art lovers. Height 22cm x width 7cm x depth 6.5cm
