Description

A wonderful rustic pine tavern bench in excellent antique condition. Crafted from solid pine, it bears a rich, timeworn patina with visible grain and wear that speak to years of honest use. The high backrest, formed from horizontal slats, offers both comfort and a classic tavern profile, while the flat seat and integrated armrests reflect a simple, utilitarian charm. Sturdily built with traditional joinery, this bench was likely designed for communal seating in inns, pubs, or farmhouse kitchens. It's a piece that carries a quiet sense of heritage and brings understated hospitality to any setting. Seat height 40cm
