Description

A lovely example of an average-sized antique pine double wardrobe, dating from around 1915. It's in good condition for its age and currently in bare wood, having recently been stripped of its original paint. Available for £900 as it is, or £997 if you'd like it waxed — both prices include the fitting of a new brass hanging rail. With an internal depth of 18", it may be a little tight for large coats or suits but should be perfectly suitable for most clothing. There are also some original wooden hanging pegs inside at the top, which can be kept as they don't interfere with garments hanging from the rail. The wardrobe completely dismantles for delivery, so it will go up any stairway with ease. Please provide your postcode for a delivery and assembly quote. Dimensions: height 74", width 56", depth 23", internal depth 18" (approximately 188 cm x 142 cm x 58 cm, internal depth 46 cm).
