Description

This pair of late 19th century Chinese hardwood figures are superbly carved with amazing detail. This pair of late 19th century Chinese hardwood figures are superbly carved with amazing detail. They depict two water buffalo lying down, and humorously, each one has a boy climbing on its back. The expressions of the shocked buffalo are brilliantly captured. These finely carved figures have inset glass eyes, and the teeth have been made from bone. They both have separately carved hardwood stands that display these sculptures very well. Both are in very good original condition. Chinese, circa 1880 Height 15cm x width 27cm x depth 13cm
