

SA1177084

Antique oil painting portrait of hunting hounds and hunting dogs on a hunt 19th century in winter snow painting of a dog painting of a hound on a fox hunt all fox hunting by dog portrait artist animal artist Fannie Moody

Price
GBP 6,950
 | USD $9,405 | EUR 8,132

Item Reference: SA1177084

Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Dimensions

Height = 50.5 cm (19.9")

Width = 75 cm (29.5")

Description

A very fine antique oil painting of a dog and other hunting hounds and hunting dogs painted by a late 19th century well respected animal artist. Measurements: Width: 75 cm Height: 50.5 cm A hunting oil painting of a dog and others in the winter snow in a winter landscape of a country fox hunt and fox hunting in progress. Fannie Moody (British, 1861-1948 Animal painter, Illustrator, Miniature painter. She exhibited extensively, including at the Royal Academy from 1888 to 1897 and the Society of British Artists, as well as throughout Liverpool and Manchester. She was awarded the Silver Medal in 1898 at the Crystal Palace Art Union for the best animal study, and was a member of the Society of Women Artists (SWA). Several of her original works have been reproduced as chromolithographs and various other types of prints, and she also did artwork for cookie tins and postcards, as well as being published in several magazines and publications. Mediums worked in included oil, watercolour, pastel, coloured chalks, conte crayon, charcoal and gouache. This oil painting signed by Fannie Moody is understood to be probably one of her largest works. Her fabulous paintings have sold ...

Internal Ref: Hunt1

Seller Details

Gerald Neville Antiques

East Sussex United Kingdom

Tel: 07597 391543

International Tel: +44 7597 391543