Description

This Ardebil rug has a sophisticated feel to it and a lovely desirable colour range. The main border displays elaborate flower heads and brackets in a kufic style, whilst smaller bands of blossoms create a subtle layer of natural harmony. This leads to the soft ivory field, that allows columns of ram horn motifs to rise like crowns of strength, in-between artistic depictions of camels and stars. Despite using elements from Caucasian rugs, this design remains distinctly North West Persian due to its construction. Size: 182cm x 113cm Age: Circa 1900 Condition: Wear - damage - primitive repairs Stock No: SG-ARD0625
