Description

An elegant Victorian circular sewing / lamp table in richly figured mahogany. The circular top is supported on a refined U-shaped stretcher descending to a turned central column and a well-formed tri-form base terminating on original concealed castors. To one side, a pull-out work drawer opens to reveal the traditional suspended fabric work bag used historically for needlework and fine personal effects. The table has an attractive architectural silhouette, the proportions soft and balanced with a warm, lustrous surface that displays the depth and quality of the mahogany. A piece of both practicality and grace, well-suited to contemporary interiors. Dimensions: Height: 75.5 cm (29.72 in) Width: 52.5 cm (20.66 in) Depth: 52 cm (20.47 in) Styling & Use This piece lends itself effortlessly to a number of refined domestic settings including a side or lamp table, bedside with hidden storage for personal items, in a dressing room for jewellery and accessories, a highlight occasional table beside a reading chair or as a hallway accent with sculptural presence. Condition Presented in very good antique condition. Structurally sound and ready for placement. Date: 1860 Origin...
