Description

We are delighted to offer this stunning antique Victorian 18ct gold diamond 5-stone ring made c.1890. Stunning and glamorous, this ring offers an attractive and irresistible presentation for Victorian jewellery and diamond lovers. The five old-cut diamonds graduate in size and present a striking design, particularly highlighted under natural sunlight. Depending on the angle and lighting, the diamonds twinkle intensely in such an enchanting manner with specs of fire that can also be seen. Attention to detail is further apparent in the goldsmithing where the diamonds have been meticulously set in fine claw mounts that slightly raise the diamonds, maximising the gem's surface area, complementing its overall dazzling appearance. The curved design not only allows for an ergonomic fit but also presents each diamond at a slightly different angle, enhancing its shine and reflection. The ring is particularly delightful to wear on a sunny day. Such a combination of fine goldsmithing and quality gems makes for a distinguished choice for antique jewellery lovers. Whether it be for wearing as a contrasting piece of jewellery among other pieces or as a bold single ring, such allur...
