Description

A beautifully crafted Victorian armchair dating from around the late 19th century (c.1880), featuring an elegant carved mahogany frame with rich patina and original upholstery in damask velvet. The chair displays a high balloon back with intricate crest rail carving, scrolled arms, and cabriole front legs, all characteristic of the Victorian Rococo Revival style. The frame is in excellent structural condition, while the original fabric shows visible signs of wear and age, offering an authentic antique character. Perfect as a statement piece in a living room, bedroom, or reading corner, this chair reflects timeless craftsmanship and late Victorian elegance. Seat height: 46 cm Frame – very good antique condition, sturdy and solid. Upholstery – original, with visible wear consistent with age (small holes and fading).
