Description

Finer than typical and with a greater range of yellowy greens, this tapestry was probably made in Audenaard around 1650. Now reduced to a small strip, the size can fit in many small places around the home. Featuring a bird in the foreground, a little lamb in the middle ground and a castle in the background, with a generous dollop of verdure on the top. Very lovely. 2'2" x 8'1"
