Description

An Exceptional Quality Late 18th Century, Georgian Mahogany Hanging Corner Cupboard, Of Bowfronted Form, Having Satinwood Crossbanded And Inlaid Decoration To Panelled Doors, Enclosing Three Shelves. Corner cupboards, particularly hanging ones, are of course a great solution to a room which is lacking storage and already has full walls. This is of course due to the fact they can be mounted in the corner and add a large amount more functional storage to a space which wouldn't be in use otherwise. They also of course add real elegance and a slightly different dimension. This is a particularly good, georgian 18th century corner cupboard due to the overall quality of construction and materials. It is constructed from lovely, well figured, rich mahogany timbers which have been very carefully selected and positioned into the elegant panelled door design. There is also attractive satinwood crossbanding to the doors which contrasts beautifully against the mahogany. Overall the condition is very good, just a few old marks, scuffs, scratches and dents which are to be expected on a piece of furniture which has been well used of this age and all of these blend in perfectly well with...
