Description

Very good quality Queen Anne or George I style walnut bureau cabinet c.1930. Two door cupboard top with bevelled mirrored door panels and fitted inside with three adjustable shelves (depth 8"). Bureau base with a fitted interior of pigeon holes and six small oak lines drawers arranged around a small lockable central compartment. With a chest of short and three long drawers of graduated height below the bureau. Well figured English walnut veneers across the exterior and continued on the bureau interior, with crossbanded edges and raised mouldings. Superb swan neck pediment with unusual carved detail. Attractively shaped drawer fronts with early Georgian pattern brass handles. Moulded trim around the base and raised on shaped bracket feet at the front and sides. Solid oak shelves and drawer linings. Some fading to the colour on the right hand side and the bureau front. Otherwise excellent condition, cleaned and waxed in our workshops. Key supplied for the doors, bureau fall and internal compartment. Separates into two pieces for transport. Width: 35.5" (90 cm) Height: 79.5" (202 cm) Depth: 20" (51 cm)
