Description

A Superb Quality And Rarely Found 18th Century Hepplewhite Period Mahogany Masters Armchair Of Imposing Proportions Having Carved Decoration To Pierced Splat Back Over Upholstered Seat Raised On Elegant Square Tapered Legs And Stretchers (Antique Masters Armchairs are generally chairs of relatively common form and design for a period produced with extra large proportions. There are many "masters" whom these chairs would have been made for but some obvious examples are masonic leaders, school masters, council leaders and heads of households. Basically anybody in a position of authority would feasibly have had a Masters Chair produced to ensure that when sat amongst their group it is obvious that they are the leader) Circa 1780 Height - 41in Width - 27.5in Depth - 24in Seat Height - 22in
