Description

This superb Victorian inlaid burr walnut combined games and work-table is a fine example of 19th-century English craftsmanship and ingenuity. Beautifully made from richly figured burr walnut with exquisite floral and line inlay, this multifunctional table combines elegance with practical versatility. The hinged top opens to reveal a beautifully inlaid chess and backgammon board, making it ideal for games and leisure. Beneath the top lies a single fitted drawer, and below that a sliding work box, perfect for sewing or needlework storage. The table stands gracefully on turned and carved supports, joined by a turned stretcher and raised on shaped scroll feet. A stunning piece that serves equally well as a collector's display, a functional games table, or a decorative centrepiece in a period or traditional interior.
