Description

For your consideration is this lovely Art Deco ladies wrist watch which looks great for both evening and day dress. Made by the US watchmakers company Elgin with serial number dating it to 1933, 92 years old!. The movement is 15 jewel manual wind movement, a fine classic Calibre movement running well. Movement has been fully serviced, ultra sonically cleaned & Oiled and is running strongly and keeping good time. The Case is silver nickel with white and black enamel geometric decoration, great condition considering it's age. Has it's original matching strap which continues with the enamel decoration. An off white dial with black Deco numerals sets this watch off beautifully. Measures 19 mm side to side (excluding crown) and 33 mm lug to lug. The wrist band is a linked and measuring 8 1/2" with the clasp open and closed 6 1/4". The overall condition of this watch is above average, all totally original and sourced in the US. All of our watches are sent out in a complimentary gift box with FREE UK mainland delivery.
