Description

This is a very attractive antique pine cupboard — partly glazed and full of character. It features a removable crown piece at the top, allowing you to choose between a more decorative or simpler silhouette. The cupboard has two upper glazed doors with lovely patterned details and two solid panelled doors below, all framed in a classic, elegant design. Originally painted, the piece has since been stripped and wax finished. The current wax shows some light blemishes, so a fresh waxing would really enhance its appearance and bring out the natural warmth of the pine. It's in very good condition for its age and stands on a shaped plinth base that adds charm and stability. Available for £647 as it is, or £727 if you'd like it re-waxed. Inside, the upper section contains one fixed shelf, while the lower cabinet includes two fixed shelves. The shelves are set into the sides, so they could be removed with some effort if required. All four doors have working spring catches, and the locks operate smoothly. This piece offers a lovely combination of display and storage space, making it ideal for a kitchen, dining room, or living area. It just needs a little clean-up and fresh waxi...
