Description

Technical Description An exceptional German Antique Art Nouveau Glass Wine Dispenser dating to c1900. It has a colourful wrought iron frame and stand depicting a fruiting grape vine. It holds a clear glass open top carafe with a clear applied handle, also depicting engraved fruiting vine with the engraved words in German 'ICH TRINK DEN WEIN NICHT GERNALLEIN' (I don't like drinking wine alone). A long spout leads to the original brass dispenser which works perfectly and much like an optic where you press the base of the glass which releases the air lock and the wine flows out. A stunning original piece in superb condition which works just as well today as it did over 100 years ago. Date & Origin Germany, c1900 Condition Excellent, no chips cracks or restoration, Clean and clear Dimensions Height: 50 cm Base Diameter: 24 cm
