Description

A superb early 1920s mahogany pentagonal display counter, featuring three glazed sides and a glass top within a finely crafted mahogany frame. The cabinet has a rear access door with brass fittings and an adjustable glass shelf supported by its original brackets. The interior has a deep red velvet base lining, a classic feature of period jewellery and watch displays. Beautifully designed and practical, this piece would have originally been used in a fine jewellery store. Today, it remains a refined and functional display counter, perfect for shop or home interiors. H: 91.5 W: 120 D: 58 cm
