Description

A very nice pair of mid 17thc Flemish carved oak Caryatids, which would have been originally applied to an impressive piece of furniture or panelling, I always say I would have loved to have seen the piece it would have been applied to....what makes these two special, is that they are playing musical instruments of the period...a drum and what looks like a tambourine...excellent natural colour and condition. Flemish C1640-60.
