Description

This exquisite 1960s triple strand pearl necklace is a picture of timeless elegance, enhanced by a beautifully crafted 9ct gold floral clasp set with deep blue sapphires and delicate pearls. Each of the three strands is composed of lustrous creamy ivory cultured pearls, individually hand-knotted for strength and fluid drape. The pearls have a soft, even glow with a fine natural sheen, and measure approximately 5.8–6mm in diameter. The gold clasp is particularly charming — designed as a flowerhead, it features four oval sapphires and five petite pearls, forming a delightful centrepiece that can be worn to the front, side, or back for versatile styling. Measuring 18 inches (45cm) at its shortest strand, with the others graduating to 19 inches (48cm) and 17 inches (43cm), this necklace sits beautifully at the collarbone, flattering every neckline. Sapphire stones: 1 × approx. 3.5mm, 6 × approx. 2mm 9ct gold clasp diameter: approx. 14mm Necklace weight: 60 grams Excellent condition throughout — pearls evenly coloured and free from blemishes Presented in the box illustrated A truly elegant and feminine necklace, perfect for any occasion and a wonderful example of mid-20th-century jewelry.
