Description

This is an elegant 19th century French mahogany and marble Gueridon table with attractive proportions and a good rich colour and patina dating from around 1860. The table base in figured mahogany has an hexagonal bulbous column with tripartite scroll legs having scallop carved detail to the toes and really characterful claw feet to the edges. The top is in a lovely quality, circular figured grey marble that is in excellent condition. A very smart example with a lovely warm colour and patina. The table measures 90 cms in diameter and is 72 cms high. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £70 plus vat to most destinations.
