Description

A finely enamelled Meiji period Satsuma bowl by the recorded workshop Nikko, signed beneath the underglaze-blue Shimazu clan crest with a red and gilt "Nikko" cartouche. The classic ivory crackled body is decorated externally with trailing chrysanthemums and seasonal flowers in pastel enamels with finely controlled gilding. Inside, a large flowering shrub rises from a rocky base, executed with carefully layered colours and miniature precision. A bold black-and-gold brocade border frames the rim and provides a strong graphic line, characteristic of higher-quality Kyoto-school work. The painting quality, palette and signature align closely with documented Nikko pieces, including a tea service with identical mark sold at Bonhams, London (15 May 2014). ?
