Description

A very attractive pair of art deco bookends with a model of a cat on each. Each cat is modelled in a type of angular cubist manner and appear to be nickel plated on spelter. The bookends are veined Belgian black marble with a thinner white panel that the cats stand on. French in origin and date to the 1930s. No makers marks. They are quite heavy at 2.43kg together. Condition is good. There is a bit of wear to the plated surface of the cats revealing the base metal. No dents or cracks to them. The marble is good, just a few tiny chips at the lower edges.
