Description

Fine George III Mahogany Sectaire Bookcase Item Code: S27-1094 A handsome late 18th-century George III mahogany secretaire bookcase of elegant proportions, retaining its original architectural presence and superb colour. The upper section features a striking swan-neck pediment with crisply carved rosettes and pierced fretwork, above a pair of astragal-glazed doors opening to adjustable shelves. The lower section houses a beautifully fitted secretaire drawer, revealing an arrangement of satinwood-banded drawers, pigeonholes, and a central oval-inlaid cupboard, all fronted by a tooled green leather writing surface. Below are four long graduated drawers, each with its original turned knobs, offering excellent storage. This is a classic example of Georgian craftsmanship, combining refined glazing, balanced proportions, and fine drawer construction in richly figured mahogany. Key Features: * Elegant George III mahogany secretaire bookcase, c.1790 * Swan-neck pediment with carved rosettes and pierced fretwork * Astragal-glazed doors to the upper bookcase * Fitted secretaire interior with drawers, pigeonholes, and oval inlay * Tooled green leather writing surface * Four long g...
