Description

Fine Regency Mahogany Bookcase Item Code: S27-1100 A superb Regency mahogany bookcase of imposing scale and refined architectural form, showcasing the elegance and craftsmanship characteristic of the early 19th century. The upper section features a beautifully shaped pediment centred by a roundel, flanked by turned finials, and above a pair of tall glazed doors with Gothic arched astragals. Inside, adjustable shelves offer excellent display space. The lower section is fitted with three frieze drawers adorned with fine brass lion-mask ring handles, over a pair of cupboard doors with original Regency brass grillework and pleated silk panels. Bold reeded pilasters, turned feet, and ebonised detailing complete the piece with classical Regency presence. This is a highly decorative and substantial bookcase with excellent storage and display capacity—a statement piece for a study, library, or drawing room. Key Features: * Fine Regency period mahogany bookcase, c.1815 * Shaped pediment with roundel and turned finials * Gothic-arched astragal-glazed upper doors * Three frieze drawers with brass lion-mask ring handles * Lower cupboards with original Regency brass grillework and sil...
