Description

A charming interwar-period stool (circa 1920–1940) newly upholstered in premium Marvic houndstooth fabric by RD Goodchild. The soft rose-mauve tone gives it a refined, decorative presence, perfect for a dressing table, bedroom corner or as an occasional accent seat. The frame is made of dark-stained beech, with beautifully detailed legs typical of the 1920s–40s. Each leg has square blocks at the top and base, a softly swollen baluster-turned centre, and a single ring turning, giving the stool subtle period elegance. The legs are united by a classic H-stretcher for strength and stability. Features

- Newly upholstered in Marvic houndstooth fabric
- Professionally upholstered by RD Goodchild
- Dark-stained beech frame
- Baluster-turned legs with square blocks and a single ring turning
- H-stretcher base
- Compact, versatile size

Condition Excellent. Upholstery is new; frame shows light, honest age.
