Description

A beautifully crafted Victorian period chaise longue, made from richly toned rosewood and adorned with refined hand-carved detailing. This elegant piece features the characteristic scrolling back and arm, showcasing the quality and craftsmanship typical of mid-to-late 19th century furniture. The chaise has been professionally cleaned, gently refreshed, and wax-finished in our workshop to enhance the natural depth and warmth of the rosewood. The floral damask upholstery is in good, clean condition and offers both comfort and a classic, timeless appearance. Perfect for a bedroom, sitting room, dressing room, or boutique interior, this piece brings a touch of historic luxury and presence to any space — a genuine antique with charm, elegance, and practical usability. A distinguished and stylish statement piece.
