Description

A beautiful north country Longcase clock by Joseph Hampson of Warrington. He is listed as working there in the second half of the 18th Cent. Unfortunately it has sustained some damage as shown in the pictures and is therefore being sold for restoration. There is a picture before the "accident" so you can see what it should look like. Most of the bits are there but the glass in the door and the swan neck is broken and some small prices from the centre of the swan neck are missing. The rest of the case needs a little tidying but is generally in good unrestored condition and a lovely colour. The movement looks to be in reasonable order but has not been tested. The moon dial appears not to be connected. It comes with two weights and a pendulum. Viewing and collection is preferred.
