Description

Fine Antique Japanese Satsuma Ovoid Vase – Signed Dozan – Meiji Era (Late 19th Century) This exceptional antique Japanese Satsuma vase, crafted during the Meiji era (1868–1912), is a superb example of late-19th-century Satsuma artistry. Beautifully ovoid in form and signed “Dozan” in gilt on the base, it represents the work of a highly collectible and respected potter. The vase is exquisitely decorated in rich enamels and gilt, featuring a continuous sankin-kotai procession scene—the traditional daimyo procession to Edo. The band of figures is painted with remarkable detail and precision, demonstrating the refined craftsmanship associated with fine Meiji-period Satsuma ware. Above and below the main scene, intricately painted floral panels and geometric motifs add further elegance and balance to the design. Size: • Height: 25.5 cm • Diameter: 11.5 cm Condition: This piece is in excellent condition, free from damage, and displays beautifully. A superb collector's item and a striking decorative piece for any interior. Perfect for collectors of Japanese antiques, Satsuma pottery, Meiji art, and those seeking a museum-quality decorative statement.
