Description

A finely made Regency mahogany drop-leaf Pembroke table of elegant compact form. The table features a beautifully figured mahogany top with two hinged leaves that open to create a generous surface, perfect for small dining, serving or occasional use. The frieze incorporates a single drawer with its original brass handle offering useful storage while maintaining the clean refined lines of the piece. The table stands on four finely turned and reeded legs each terminating in the original brass castors allowing smooth movement when required. Neat and understated when closed, yet practical and well-proportioned when opened, this piece works beautifully as a dining table for two, a serving table, or a versatile occasional table suited to any interior. Condition Good antique condition. Strong, stable and ready to place. Dimensions Height: 70 cm (27.5 in) Width (open): 97.5 cm (38.4 in) Depth: 102.5 cm (40.3 in) Width (closed): 54 cm (21.25 in) Date: c.1830 (Regency) Origin: England
