Description

A beautifully proportioned Edwardian figured walnut cheval mirror, dating to circa 1910. The mirror retains its original shaped bevelled plate, framed in richly figured walnut with a warm, glowing patina. The arched and serpentine top adds a graceful silhouette, typical of early 20th-century design. The mirror is supported within its original adjustable swivel frame, standing on a well-shaped walnut base with swept cabriole-style supports and decorative apron. Brass side fittings and finials complete the look, adding a subtle touch of period elegance. A stylish and practical bedroom or dressing-room piece, offering both decorative charm and functional full-length reflection.
