Description

This is an impressive large antique pair of Edwardian silver plated Corinthian column table lamps, circa 1910 in date. Each lamp features a classic Corinthian Capital decorated with acanthus leaves and anthemion with a fluted shaft on a cylindrical pedestal raised on a square beaded stepped base. Add an element of pure luxury to your home with this superb pair of antique silver plated table lamps. Condition: In excellent working condition having been beautifully cleaned and rewired, please see photos for confirmation. Dimensions in cm: Height 62 cm x Width 16 cm x Depth 16 cm Dimensions in inches: Height 2 foot x Width 6 inches x Depth 6 inches Corinthian capital It has been suggested that the foliage of the Greek Corinthian capital was based on the Acanthus spinosus, that of the Roman on the Acanthus mollis. The leaves are generally carved in two "ranks" or bands, like one leafy cup set within another. One of the most beautiful Corinthian capitals is that from the Tholos of Epidaurus (400 BC); it illustrates the transition between the earlier Greek capital, as at Bassae, and the Roman version that Renaissance and modern architects inherited and refined.
