Description

An elegant three-piece cruet set by the highly regarded firm William Hutton & Sons, Sheffield, dating from the opening years of the 20th century. The shaped silver-plated base stands on three rounded feet and rises to a sculptural loop handle. It supports three original cut-glass containers: open salt, pepper shaker and mustard pot, all of conforming faceted form with vertical cut panels. The mustard pot retains its original silver-plated spoon. William Hutton & Sons were among the leading British producers of silver and electroplate throughout the 19th and early 20th century, supplying goods to the fashionable middle-class and luxury markets. This cruet set is a particularly attractive example of their Edwardian domestic silver, combining practicality with refined design. Origin: Sheffield, England Maker: William Hutton & Sons (fully marked to underside) Date: c.1900–1910 Medium: Silver-plate and hand-cut glass Dimensions: 16.5 cm high; stand approx. 12 × 12 × 12 cm Condition: Excellent original condition throughout; all glass containers original to the frame, free from damage; silver-plate bright with only very minor surface marks from use.
