Description

A delightful fusion of artistry and function, this Edwardian serving set is a charming example of early 20th century domestic refinement. The silver-plated stand features two intricately cast condiment holders and matching ladles, all resting between two exquisite Doulton Burslem porcelain trays with richly coloured botanical decoration. A beautiful marriage of fine English porcelain and detailed silver-plated craftsmanship, this set embodies the elegance of afternoon tea rituals and Edwardian entertaining – circa 1905. Measurements: Height to top of handle: 9" (approx. 23cm) Width: 18" (approx. 45.5cm) Depth: 9" (approx. 23cm) Diameter of plate: 9" (approx. 23cm) Total weight: 1491g In good condition – Silver plating remains bright with minimal surface wear or tarnishing. Porcelain dishes are free from chips or cracks; minor glaze wear commensurate with age. No signs of repairs; all pieces fit securely within the stand.
