SoldItem Reference: SA118345*Date of manufacture: 1900

Description

An impressive huge magnifying glass the handle being made from English or Scottish Antler horn, comfortable and tactile to hold; and looks wonderful desk-top. The ferrule and tip are both made from sterling silver, hallmarked for Sheffield 1900, a late Victorian example. The tip with it's fluted design surrounds a circular cartouche on both sides which could be engraved by your silversmith should you wish to personalize. The nickel rimmed glass is of course new (by Hilkinson), making it perfect, most usable with a good magnification. A stunning desk-top accessory in excellent condition. Measures 11" in length with glass diameter of 5", a grand scales sure to impress. Item ID: 33171 ----- FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
