Description

Chinese Blue and White Porcelain Bottle Vase with a Flaring Neck Key Details Type: Porcelain bottle vase (a pear-shaped or yuhuchunping form with a tall, flared neck). Decoration: Hand-painted with figures and water/mountain motifs. This narrative style often illustrates scenes from literature or mythology, which was a common theme on Chinese ceramics for both domestic and export markets. The style of painting in blue and white was perfected during the Ming and Qing dynasties. Origin/Period: The style is consistent with late Qing Dynasty (19th century) or early Republic Period production. . Approximate Dimensions: H: 13 x W: 8 cm
