Description

An original brass and cut crystal ceiling light from the 1910s, complete with its original deeply cut shade and retaining a beautifully untouched patina. The brass frame is detailed with band of casted crosses, and set against ribbed patten. The crystal shade is fabulously finished, featuring a crisp diamond cut lattice that catches the light brilliantly, along with a star cut base, this light would be an excellent option for hallways, entrances, kitchens, or period commercial interiors.
