Description

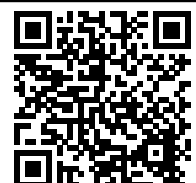

An exceptional, fine and impressive antique West Country silver miniature teapot/ herb pot; an addition to our rare silverware collection. This exceptional and rare antique Georgian miniature silver teapot/herb pot has a bullet form. The body of this silver teapot is plain and unembellished. This antique silver herb teapot is fitted with a push fit cover ornamented with bands of thread decoration and surmounted with the original silver topped, stained turned wood finial. The teapot is fitted with the original carved and stained wood C shaped handle accented with a plain scrolling thumbpiece. This exceptional miniature silver teapot features a plain tapering spout. This West Country silver miniature or herb teapot is a charming and uncommon gift. Its fine provincial craftsmanship and regional character appeal to collectors of miniature silver and admirers of English decorative antiques. Condition This 18th century rare silver teapot is an exceptional gauge of silver, exceptional quality and in exceptional condition for its type. The surface of the teapot has some blemishes, in keeping with age and use. The three maker's marks struck to the underside are all very cle...
