Description

A lovely Victorian oak dining table dating from the late 19th Century. It has a thick planked top with a moulded edge and it stands on chunky turned legs. The table has a wonderful patina and the top has a lovely warm colour and grain. It is a good size, big enough to seat 6-8 comfortably and a good height to sit at with leg clearance of 24" (61cm) all the way around. The top can be removed to make transport easier. It is in very good condition for its age and it is strong and sturdy. There are signs of age and use, some marks and knocks and some old repairs but nothing detrimental and it has a lovely patina. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
