Description

A beautiful 19th-century French Vernis Martin painted side table, richly decorated with hand-painted romantic scenes and floral detailing, framed within a gilt-bronze (ormolu) mounted edge. This elegant table stands on four finely shaped cabriole legs, each adorned with cast gilt-bronze mounts, typical of the refined Louis XV Revival style. The shaped top features a colourful Vernis Martin panel depicting pastoral figures and scrolling foliage, surrounded by a brass-bound rim. The frieze includes a single drawer with further painted decoration and ornate ormolu embellishments. Delicate, decorative, and highly collectible, this table makes a stunning accent piece for hallways, living rooms, bedrooms, or boutique interiors.
