Description

Sèvres, Paris – Château des Tuileries, c.1840–1860 A beautifully decorated mid-19th-century Sèvres piece, featuring two finely painted cherubs to the main body and three gilt-framed panels richly adorned with vibrant floral work. The colours remain fresh and crisp, showcasing the exceptional quality associated with Sèvres production of this period. Fully marked to the reverse with the complete factory marks. A wonderful example for collectors of French porcelain or those seeking an elegant decorative statement.
