Description

After Alfred Barye (French, 1795–1875) and after Émile-Corbin Guillemin, a bronze model of an Arab on horseback, mounted on a black marble plinth base, signed in the bronze and inscribed Barye to the base. Dimensions Height 73cm Width 63.5cm Depth 32cm This is a large French painted bronze depicting an Arab horseman, mounted on a black marble plinth. The bronze is inscribed Barye on the base. About Alfred Barye Alfred Barye (1839–1882), often referred to as Barye II, was the son of the noted French animal sculptor Antoine-Louis Barye. He specialised in bronze sculptures, particularly animals and equestrian figures, and worked closely within the family tradition of fine casting and detailed modelling. His works were exhibited in France during the mid to late 19th century. About Émile-Corbin Guillemin Émile-Corbin Guillemin (1841–1907) was a French sculptor known for his figurative works and for exhibiting regularly at the Paris Salon. He produced a range of sculptures including Orientalist and classical subjects. His works are recognised today for their detailed modelling and refined craftsmanship. ??
