Description

A beautiful and elegant set of six late 19th century dining chairs, crafted in the Victorian revival style. Each chair features a graceful carved balloon back with a decorative pierced splat, flowing cabriole legs and a well-proportioned upholstered seat. The solid wooden frames are warm-toned and finely shaped, showing attractive craftsmanship typical of the period. The green patterned upholstery is in excellent condition throughout, clean and well-presented, offering a striking contrast to the polished wood and adding a refined, classic look. All chairs are structurally sound and stable, making this a practical as well as decorative set ideal for a traditional dining room, elegant kitchen, or period interior. Very good antique condition overall. Frames are solid and stable, with visible age-related wear to the wood consistent with use and age. Upholstery is in excellent condition with no visible damage. Ready to use.
